Wartburg Rally Day October 3

NEARLY 200 ARE REGISTERED AS CLASSES START

Freshman Class Is Largest; Texans Hold Record.

Registration statistics show that Wartburg's enrollment for the coming year has reached the 187 mark. This figure was taken before registration was officially closed and does not include the special music students.

The freshman class ranks first with 71 members. There are 51 sophomores, 31 juniors, 29 seniors and a number of special students.

The following classification indicates the number of students enrolled in each course. Since registration is not completed, these figures should not be considered official.

Liberal Arts 31.
Pre-Theological 52.
Four Year Teachers 31.
Two Year Teachers 18.
One Year Normal 4.
Pre-Legal 1
Pre-Medical 4.
Pre-Nursing 6.
Pre-Commerce 4.
Physical Training 1.
Business 25.
Engineering 8.

Of the 187 students enrolled, 116 or 62 per cent are men.

A Texan carries the honor of having come the greatest distance. Mr. Ray Grote of Robston, Texas, estimates his distance from home at 1,400 miles. Mr. Franklin Brehmer of Cain City, Texas, is second, having come almost 1,300 miles.

Wisconsin is second only to Iowa in the number of representative students. The states rank as follow:

Iowa 122.
Wisconsin 28.
Illinois 11.
Minnesota 11.
North Dakota 11.
Nebraska 5.
South Dakota 5.
Texas 4.
Canada 3.
Colorado 1.
Indiana 1.
Kansas 1.

GROSSMANN HALL GROUP ELECTS

Herbert Kirchdorfer Is Chosen as President of Dormitory Men's Organization.

Electing Herbert Kirchdorfer president, the Grossmann hall club resumed activities for the current year in a short business meeting following convocation Monday evening, Sept. 13, with Dean Fritz and Coach Hertel offering brief suggestions of a disciplinary nature.

The dorm club is enlarged this year by the addition of the North Hall men who were voted into membership during the business meeting. They requested membership because they lost part of their recreation facilities in their dorm and many of their group were former members of the Grossmann Hall club. They will be required to pay the same dues and observe the same regulations as other members.

Following the election of Otto Matthias and Ernest Opperman, vice president and secretary-treasurer respectively, Dean Fritz read the twelfth chapter of Romans, emphasizing the responsibilities and privileges of Christian fellowship afforded to the residents of campus dormitories. Coach Hertel closed the meeting with a few remarks concerning dormitory conduct.

EDUCATION

Miss Dorothy Carr has been chosen to aid Professor Wiederaenders in the heavily-loaded education department. She will teach elementary education and take charge of teacher training classes.

NEW COURSES TO BE OFFERED NOW

Additional Subjects Being Taught in Physical Ed., Home Economics.

Thirteen new courses are offered at Wartburg this year, according to Dr. Cotterman, registrar.

Students who are interested in home economics may now obtain a major in that field. Miss Ida Ratzlaff is in charge of the home economics department and will offer two new courses, including meal planning and household management.

The new courses in the physical education department, including first aid, introduction to physical education, technique of games, self-testing activities, and technique of coaching sports, will be under the direction of assistant Coach Huth.

A course in radio has been added to the science department. This will be taught by Professor Aardal.

Other courses which have been added this year are: French I., Epochs in Church History, United States History, Harmony, History of Music, and Public Speaking. Credit will also be given for participation in an authorized musical organization.

Male Quartet Rehearses For Future Concert

The Wartburg male quartet, traditional musical organization on the campus, is preparing for another busy year. Already they have offered selections at the opening convocation and at a meeting of St. Paul's Luther League.

Albert Guetzlaff, second tenor, was the only member lost by graduation; his place has been taken by Theodore Danitschek, Denver, Colo., who will sing first bass, while Edward Wagner, first base last year, will move up to second tenor. The other members are Leonard Domke, Tilleda, Wis., second bass, and Leonard Fritschel, first tenor. Prof. E. G. Heist is acting as director at the present time.

The quartet's next appearance will be on October 3, when they will offer five songs at the All-Wartburg Day rally at the Backbone state park, Strawberry Point.

IMPROVEMENTS ARE NUMEROUS ON THE CAMPUS

Luther Hall Gets Interior Paint Decoration.

Paint, varnish, furniture, books, drapes, showers, typewriters, and just plain work have all had a part this summer in impeoving Wartburg's campus for the use of all Wartburgers, both new and old.

In the administration building, the first floor and the library were redecorated in stippled ivory and pale green, while on the outside of the building all the window sills were painted.

Eleven study cooms were built on the second floor of the west wing in North Hall for use of the boys. Showers have been installed in the basement, and the floors of the dining room and reception room were varnished.

Grossmann Hall's floors are varnished and showers were put in the basement of the south wing.

Old Main has had a post office and book store installed on the first floor. All students have individual boxes to facilitate the distribution of mail. New class rooms on the second floor have been equipped for the music director, Prof. Liemohn. and Miss Helen Wright, the art director.

The recreation room in Wartburg Hall has been improved by new wicker furniture, rugs and cream and bcown colored drapes. The floor of the "rec" room and the halls have been varnished.

Three hundred new volumes have been added to the library, and five new lypewriters to the commercial department. A new stoker will soon be installed in the administration building.

The museum is to be reorganized on the second floor.

The grounds have been cleaned up north of Grossmann Hall and around the old barn. The athletic field was plowed, dragged and disced.

Paul Engelbrecht and Mark Huss, both of Mendota, Ill., have enrolled at the University of Denver this fall.

DIRECTOR

Professor E. Liemohn will lead the Wartburg choir this year. He has started serious practice with a group of fifty-five singers from which a final selection will be made for the tour next spring.

LIEMOHN DIRECTS COLLEGE CHORUS

Fifty-Five Members Now Practicing Twice Weekly For Extended Tour.

The Wartburg mixed chorus has begun its rehearsals under the direction of Professor E. Liemohn. The ladies of the choir will meet Tuesdays at 4:10; the men at 7:30, and the combined groups on Mondays at 7:00 and Wednesdays at 4:10.

Twenty-four students tried out for places in the choir. The present membership of fifty-five voices will be decceased at some later date. The final number to be useo has not yet been decided upon, according to Mr. Liemohn.

The choir will make its annual tour this spring. No definite plans have been made as yet. The nearly complete return of last year's members combined with the new talent indicates that the choir should have as successful a season as the last.

Outfliers Enjoy a Glorious Day Packed With Pleasure

Play Games, Enjoy Fellowship, See Free Show.

"'Outfly' was just what I needed to get rid of my homesickness," said one freshman, commenting on the school outing at the Waverly gun club grounds Thursday, Sept. 16. Such an expression is evidence of the complete success of this year's "Outfly"—from its rousing beginning in front of President Braulick's home, to the final "good nights" after the theater party.

Whether it was the excellent food, the perfect day, the kitten ball, volley ball, croquet, or canoeing which was the reason for such a good time, we can't tell for sure, but we do know that a sincere spirit of fun and fellowship prevailed throughout the entire day. Everyone, students and faculty members alike, really spent from eight to 10 hours packed with enjoyment, laughs, beneficial exercise and the making of new friends.

An important event of the picnic was the annual kittenball game between faculty members and students. The teachers, with their eyes on the cherished prize— a luscious watermelon—confidently challenged the students, who took up the wager with even more confidence. Now we're still hearing lamentable queries from both sides on just who got that watermelon. Was it the boys or was it the pcofs?

Another Outfly high-light was the softball battle between the Evelyn Loats Swift Steppers and the Becker High Reachers. The High Reachers didn't have a chance against such race competition, it is to be noted, and suffered sad but valiant defeat.

After the strenuous exercise, an interminable bceadline slowly made its way before the senior "disher-outers," and a few not-so-shy freshmen slyly squeezed in for a second and even third time. But they are to be forgiven—as meal providers we think our seniors are all right.

The day wound up very appcopriately with a show which did not have to be "crashed." And here we take the opportunity of expressing our appreciation to Mr. Hagemann for so kindly inviting the Wartburg student body to the Palace theater as the final stage of a perfect day.

BACKBONE STATE PARK WILL BE MEETING PLACE

General Public Is Invited to Come to Program.

Wartburg College will stage a rally at the Backbone state park near Strawberry Point in the afternoon of October 3, 1937.

The program is to begin at 2 o'clock and will include several short speeches by cepresentatives of Wartburg College, two numbers by our male quartet, several selections by a quartet of former Wartburgers, now students at Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque, Ia., and the appearance of other college groups, such as the athletic department, etc. An interesting afternoon is in store for everyone present.

We hope to make this rally an annual event for our alumni and friends in northeastern Iowa, and plan on organizing similar meetings for other parts of the state.

Due to the fact that the Luther Leagues of northeastern Iowa have their fall federation meeting on October 10, this rally will have to be held on October 3. We hope this does not seriously disturb the meetings of other sections of the Luther League.

Although Wartburg alumni are the nucleus for this meeting, the afternoon program will be open for the general public in northeastern Iowa.

Faculty Alters Absence Rules

At a weekly meeting of the faculty, it was decided that regular classroom teachers will be held responsible for collecting excuse slips from the students on the day of return to any class after an absence. The excuse will then be turned in to one of the deans to whom an absence slip had been pceviously given.

The faculty also decided to introduce a four year course in economics and commerce with a major in economics. Several students have already enrolled in this course.

FACULTY WOMEN HOLD MEETING

New Women Instructors Given Welcome at Informal Party Gathering.

The faculty wives and the new women instructors were welcomed at an informal party given at Wartburg Hall, Thursday evening, Sept. 16, by the faculty women in their first meeting of the year.

Hostesses were Mrs. A. W. Swenson, Mrs. John Hiltner and Mrs. G. Ottersberg. The program consisted of games and talks. First everyone gave a brief sketch telling how she had spent her summer. Then at various tables such games as anagrams, carrom, checkers and bunco were played. The serving of refreshments followed the pcogram.

An interesting side-light of the meeting was the fact that each lady took about a half dozen flour sacks home to hem for dish towels to be used in the dining hall.

Dr. Neumann and Professor Heist represented Wartburg college in a special radio bcoadcast fcom station WMT in Waterloo several weeks ago. Dr. Neumann gave a very interesting and educational address, while Professor Heist cendered several beautiful compositions on the piano.

LOOKING FORWARD

We have passed another year along the way. Already the past is growing misty behind us, and we live in the dust and the roadside beauty of today. Now the path is light—the day still cool in its morning beauty, and freshness and vigor are visible all about us; we are young and life should taste good.

How can you get the most out of these happiest years? The formula is age-old—know thy God, know thy fellow man, and know thyself; and a powerful triumverate it is. Think awhile on these and determine which one is most lacking in your life. We need the inner strength that comes from communion with our God; from Him and in Him we can better obtain the rase-tinted view of life as worth while and purposeful. We need the fellowship of man to develop the potentialities of our personality. He is a sorry creature indeed, who shuns the presence and conversation of his fellows, and especially so is this true in college where we are bound together so compactly. School friendships are real treasures are second, and "I'm third." If we all adopted this little motto, would not college life be simplified and happier for you? make better students and companions out of us.

There is a little motto I saw once which expresses this whole thought in two syllables, "I'm third." God is first, you are second, and "I'm third." If we all adopted this little motto, would not college life be simplified and happier for you? Think it over.

Each year will deepen the effects of your decision, and if the "I'm third" motto be branded on your conscience in these college days, life will be sweet and worth while.

T

ANOTHER YEAR

The Trumpet sounds again and as it ever must, its clarion notes fall upon many ears for the first time. We hope you like this paper—hope that it becomes a part of your school life, something to look forward to on Saturday afternoons every other week.

A new staff is being broken in with this issue. Just as football teams must have a rhythmic order to their actions, even so must a paper staff be coordinated. Whenever a mistake appears, somebody missed his assignment—the error came through and spilled us for a loss.

For the first time we are attempting to publish an eight-page tabloid throughout the year. We ask for your help. If you have any contribution or criticism which can aid, there will always be a willing ear open. Maybe you cannot write; your ideas may be good and that is really what counts. Friends we are counting on your help this year to give us a bigger, better paper.

Let sound the Trumpet call.

T

THIS IS YOUR BUSINESS

Citizens of Wartburg—the Student Council stands ready to serve as your representatives in this unique commmunity that we call Wartburg college. Its members were elected by YOU and they are responsible to YOU for their actions. This council might be likened to the governing body of any municipality, its members are elected by the various wards or divisions—in this case, classes, and represent the will of these classes at their meetings.

Why such a council? The constitution states its aims thus:

"The purpose of this organization shall be to uphold the Christian principles and moral standards of this school and to represent the students in committees which concern the affairs of the student body." That means that this organization is the most responsible student organization on the campus.

Our students are to take any grievances or new ideas on school management to the council instead of "griping" about them in their rooms. Rather than acting in hot-headedness and irresponsibility, give the council a chance to prove its worth and let it take the appointed steps in presenting student matters to the faculty.

They are all our friends—yours and mine—fine fellow students, willing and worthy to represent us. Let us give them our cooperation, show them every courtesy and also pray for them that a guidance more sure than that of human minds and hearts may lead them in their deliberations.

BOOST

Our hats are off to our advertisers. It's their cold hard cash that's going into these advertisements, but they think enough the school and the paper that represents it, to do that advertising. Let us make it really worth while for those that are such good sports.

MISSING

Our editor, Eric Fietz, is still cooling his heels in the customs office at Winnipeg, according to latest reports, looking for his birth certificates.

TRUMPET STAFF IS APPOINTED

Assistant Editors Carry On In Absence of Head of School Paper.

In the absence of Editor-in-chief Eric Fietz of Stoughton, Sask., Canada, Leonard Fritschel, assistant editor of the Trumpet staff last year, is taking Mr. Fietz's position until his return.

The assistant editor is Ruth Fritz, a junior who has had previous experience on school papers and the Canadian Spectator. News editors are Eugene Leschensky of Reedsburg, Wis., and Eleanor Gross of La Moille, Ill. Walter Frederick and Vernon Mohr have charge of the sports section while Reid Jepson serves as cartoonist.

Professor H. J. Kuhlmann of the English and journalism department, is the faculty advisor. Rev. A. G. Wenninger of the Waverly Orphan's home and president of the Wartburg Alumni association, and Gertrude Voelker, secretary of the Alumni association and former editor of the Trumpet, are alumni editors.

The business staff consists of Edward Wagner, a senior, Elmer Kastner, senior, Carl Kalkwarf and Clifford Burrack, both juniors.

Reporters who serve on the staff for this term are: Charles Schmitz who has had experience on the Wheaton college paper; Ontke Ihnen, sports editor for three years and editor for one year on the high school paper at Palmer, Ia.; Norma Neubauer and Evelyn Lenth, who have had experience on high school papers, and Amanda Walck. Paulus Braulick, Betty Wiedereanders, and Martin Heist have had experience on the Waverly school paper.

Six reporters from last year's staff who are returning for work this year include: Wilma Burrack, Irma Christophel, Waldemar Langholz, Arthur Neumann, Albert Schumacher, and John Vagts

Lost-One Editor; Canadian Border Seems Impregnable

Eric Fietz Emmeshed In International Difficulties.

By Eric Fietz

International Soufflet Ever heard of it? Well, it's the stew you run into when crossing the border from one country into another in these non-international-istic times.

Preparing the passport visa is the first step. Assemble all ingredients on the U. S. consulate or embassy table, and take care not to choose the wrong embassy. There are at least a dozen in Canada.

You need two birth certificates to prove you were actually born (they try to cut out those who just happened, I suppose), two photographs, unretouched, showing all disfigurements, such as moles, crossed eyes or beaked noses (they would refuse to keep mine in a safety deposit box), two police records, if you can get one, a medical examination, a letter of acceptance from the institution of learning, and at long last, a letter of recommendation from your favorite banker, conferring upon you a mythical bank balance sufficient to maintain you while domiciled abroad, so that you will not seek work with the WPA or some other more or less charitable organization.

In connection with the medical examination, I encountered two Purdue aspirants, one Vassarite, and three Notre Dame students who were concocting the same dish. The worthy medico asked us who we were and how each respectively felt today. The reply was unanimously, "Fine, doctor." I was so touched by his solicitude since it was the first I had encountered, that I also inquired into the state of his health. But that was superfluous, as I gathered when he refused hearing our health certificates marked "Examination negative. Perfect health."

I still await birth certificates. There are four of them wandering about Canada or the U. S., misdirected things, and they so far have shunned my company. The story behind them is heart-breaking. At least I think so. I need only two, but had the double order made up to make sure I'd be at Wartburg on time.

When I get the birth certificates I must mix some very deferential conversation with all ingredients, so that the dish will have the consistency of an over-ripe tomato, and then retire to weep over the havoc.

If you don't care for the dish, there's one other thing you can substitute, you aliens who desire American culture. Investigate an invitation from President Roosevelt for Thanksgiving dinner, and everything else will take care of itself.

And this isn't funny!

Plan to attend All Wartburg Day Sunday, Oct. 3, at the Backbone state park.

STUDENTS SPEND THEIR VACATIONS IN SUNDRY WAYS

Luther League Meet Attracts Many to Twin Cities.

Returning to the campus after a three months' vacation, it has been found upon an investigation of the conversations carried on the first few days of school—that the Wartburg students were engaged in a large number of activities.

The largest number of Wartburg students to be attracted to one place at one time occurred at the Luther League convention held in Minneapolis in the early part of the summer. Upon checking the registration lists, the names of the following Wartburg students were found: Hiltrude Braulick, Rosalma Neubauer, Ina Voelker, Dorothy Dohmeier, Dorothea Bangert, Bernice Ward, Waldemar Langholz, Carl Schultz, Eleanor Gross, Opal Genrich, Walter Krebs, Paul Scharff, Ress Boettcher, Erwin Grosshans, Paul Engelbrecht, Ernest Oppermann, Deloris Prior, Martin Ackermann, Albert Guetzlaff, William Weiblen, and Leonard Fritschel.

Waldemar Langholz spent three months canvassing the mid-western states as field man for the college. Of all the states covered "Wally" remembers North Dakota the best.

Clarence Bodke entered a new career and sold life insurance in his native state of Nebraska. We heard that now all Nebraska carries life insurance.

One Iowan, who goes by the name of John Vagts, left his native state of Iowa to study the dairy industry of Wisconsin. We overheard that John also spent some time studying buman nature in Wisconsin.

Entered on the pay-rolls of various canning factories, we find, such names as Kuester, Kronberger, Augst, Huth, and E. Leschensky.

Listed in the register of the ambassador hotel at Waverly, Iowa, we find the names, Walter Krebs, Paul Radue, Edward Wagner, Otto Paulson, Paul Scharff, and William Kappmeyer, who were employed in Waverly and on the campus.

There is rumor throughout the dorm that Priebe and Fritschel have very tough knuckles as the result of their house to house canvassing that they did during the summer.

Wenske and Kastner returned to their homes to work under the hot summer sun in the fields.

According to reports the majority of our co-eds spent the summer working under the supervision of their mothers.

The sentiment amongst the students seems to be that vacation is all right, but that they are glad school has again begun.

Smoke and Embers

So many people were burned up about last year's Hash Bowl that we decided to call this year's column, Smoke and Embers . . . Well, we expect a few more to go up in smoke this year so the column will be properly named . . . The Outfly was no doubt a great success, and judging from the way things went, there ought to be a lot less homesick Freshmen girls around here from now on . . . at least Kappmeier was doing his best to keep a certain Freshie entertained. In fact, he was so busy, he decided he couldn't go out for football or, maybe it's a matter of color? . . . Knitt says it isn't the Freshmen alone who get lonesome . . . He claims he has a good reason to wear a sour look on his face. Occasionally it relaxes and breaks into a smile, especially when there is an air mail letter for him postmarked from California . . .

Some of our former students now at the Seminary were here for our big mixer, that is, we caught a glimpse of them and that's about all we had of some of our girls . . . tsk, tsk . . . One of the boys finds its very convenient to keep two girls on the string—one somewhere in Wisconsin and the other here. That may be O. K. but what will he do if they both happen to be in the same city sometime again . . . We think others of the boys will soon learn that absence makes the heart grow fonder . . . for somebody else. At least, the girl has a good start . . . Young Leschensky smokes explosive sigarettes to let the girls know when he arrives at Wartburg hall—was his face red or black? . . . . What's this about the Gluck sisters breaking down in a car on Lover's Lane ? ? ? . . .

Wetterling says as far as she is concerned there is only one Joker in the deck . . . We have often wondered if all these "absent-minded" stories of Profs are true. We are inclined to believe they are since one of our Profs forgot just which class he was lecturing to. We do hope there is a difference . . . Some of the girls on the tennis courts look like they had just escaped from a burning hotel at night . . . What we want to know is: does fishing make men liars, or do only liars fish? . . . Just because a man promises to support his wife, she usually takes his wad for it . . . Egg says the dimmest lights usually have the strongest scandal power, and as Prof. Kuhlmann says, only a convict likes to be stopped in the middle of a sentence . . . Our idea of an intelligent girl is one who can refuse a kiss without being deprived of it . . . Loots says the best way to keep lipstick from rubbing off is to eat onions . . .

Braulick Conducts First Convocation

Wartburg college officially opened its school year at a convocation service held in the college gym Thursday, Sept. 9.

A prelude by Prof. E. G. Heist opened the service followed by a hymn, "God is in His Temple," and scriptural reading by Dr. J. Hiltner. Rosamond Eckstein sang "Beside Still Waters". She was accompanied by Professor Heist.

President E. J. Braulick delivered the opening address basing his sermon on Acts 4:12, "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved."

"In this day of depression", stated President Braulick, "men in our economical, social and educational world are casting about to find relief. They try everything, but fail because they forget Christ, without whom nothing can be done." Continuing, President Braulick advised the students to make use of their Bible and prayer, admonishing them with Luther's famous words, "Much prayed is much studied."

The introduction of the faculty and announcements were made by Dean G. J. Neumann, followed by a hymn, "Praise to the Living Lord of Heaven", written by Dean Neumann.

Prayer and benediction were given by Rev. R. C. Schlueter of St. Paul's Lutheran church which was followed by the singing of the doxology.

Kenneth Harms, a former student at Wartburg, visited on the campus September 23.

CONSTITUTION OF STUDENT COUNCIL

ARTICLE I

The purpose of this organization shall be to uphold the Christian principles and moral standards of this school and to represent the students on committees which concern the affairs of the student body.

ARTICLE II.

The membership of this organization shall consist of nine members chosen as follows: one girl and one boy each of the sophomore, junior and senior classes; one member, either girl or boy, from the freshman class; one member, either girl or boy, at large; and student body president.

ARTICLE III.

The officers of this organization shall be president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer. The student body president and the senior members shall be the officers. The student body president shall be the president of the organization.

ARTICLE IV.

Section I. The election of this organization, with the exception of the freshman member, shall be held at a time designated by the president. This election shall be held before the close of the current year to enable the new members of this organization to assume office before the close of this current school year. The freshman member shall be elected at the opening of the following school year.

Section 2. Each of the four classes shall elect its respective representatives to this council. The boy chosen by the senior class shall be vice president and the girl chosen by the senior class shall be the secretary-treasurer.

ARTICLE V.

Section I. The student council shall choose one member from the council to sit with the faculty athletics committee.

Section 2. The student council shall choose a committee from the council to sit with the faculty activities committee. This chosen committee shall have the equal power of vote with the faculty committee on the general activities committee.

Section 3. The student council shall choose a committee from the council to sit with the faculty lyceum committee. This chosen committee shall be equally represented and shall have the equal power of vote with the faculty committee on the general lyceum committee.

Prof. Hiltner Barred From Own Room As Door Slammed

Roesler Breezes Into Christianity Class Causing Lock-In.

South Dakota cyclones do some mighty damage, I'm told, banging things around and upsetting the whole scheme of things, but when a South Dakotan like Stanley Roesler steps into a classroom there's real trouble brewing! Fun, too! Stan doesn't believe in going half way when he does things —when he closes a door, he slams it! Anyway, such was the case in Christianity 301 the other day.

The door being firmly "slammed," 32 would-be Ethics students settled down to wait for Prof. Hiltner, who upon arriving, found he couldn't get in. The door had really been slammed! Up jumped Mighty Mite Otto Matthias to the rescue with the air of one who says, "Here, let me do that!" But no! Otto wasn't enough to budge that door—John Vagts added his great, burly weight against it but he might just as well have tried to move Old Main (even though it does look as if a little breeze could whisk it way). Prof. Aardal and Rusty Eggleston meanwhile had been added to the pushing line on the other side of the door, while somewhere between 3 and 10 keys of various shapes and sizes were subjected to all manner of twisting and turning without so much as moving the lock a fraction of an inch.

We, on the inside, urged both sides on, with now and then a subdued whisper to those in the classroom at the door not to try too hard. Those on the outside evidently couldn't hear anything that was being said for their benefit, for they continued to look worried and hopeless, not a mite encouraged by our cheering efforts. Vagts and Matthias then got the bright idea of slipping notes of advice under the door but what was on them we never did find out for the Profs spurned them and continued stoutly with their keys and pushing.

Finally, one smart lad, Ray Webb, (can you believe it?) suggested that the door leading into the chem. lab. be opened so that Prof. Hiltner could get in that way. Then it was discovered the door had no handle — What to do? Simplicity itself!! The door was removed from its hinges and 32 ethics students trooped out one by one to another classroom to learn all about human nature.

FUN FOR ALL AT OUTDOOR MIXER

Faculty Members and Students Unite to Play and Eat at First Social Event.

With registration over and classes well under way, the knights and ladies of the Wartburg student body assembled Friday evening, Sept. 10, on the campus north of Luther Hall and launched the first social event of the year, the annual mixer. The success of this year's annual get-together was largely due to the efficient supervision of Coach Ruth.

After each knight and lady had been given identification tags, Dr. Neumann, speaking in the absence of President Schmidt, extended a few words of welcome, and commented briefly on the activities of his fellow professors, who seem to have done considerable roving during the last three months. Knight Theodore Danitschek, in making his debut as student prexy, welcomed both old and new students to Wartburg and stressed the necessity for a greater spirit of cooperation and unity.

With Professor Swenson leading in community singing, and a slight tinge of autumn in the air, the evening's program was carried on with much zest and enthusiasm. The greater part of the evening was spent in presenting stunts and playing games.

From start to finish, all seemed to enjoy the first social event, including the various members of the faculty. After refreshments, consisting of buns, coffee and ice cream, had been served, the knights and ladies, together with friends and alumni of the college, strolled away toward their respective homes, leaving six lowly freshmen who voluntarily rendered their services to the humble duty of dishwashing.

Organizations

Band

The college band has held several short meetings to decide upon rehearsals. No rehearsal has been held as yet. Mr. Llemohn, band director this year, is quite well satisfied with the instrumentation thus far.

The band at present is composed of the following members:

Clarinet: Norma Neubauer, Marie Weiss, Lorraine Eckstein, Elden Preckner, Mae Cain, Vivian Gluck, Theo. Schultz, and Howard Rebholz; cornet: Ada Mae Little and Galen Neal; trumpet, Ed Harden, Lowell Sievers and Paulus Braulick; trombone, Eileen Schmidt, Theo. Dantschek, Clarence Pries, James Lockwood, Raymond Kronberger; alto, Gail Jackson; flute, Elizabeth Wiedenranders; saxophone, Erwin Knuth; bass, Erma Clark and Bill Weiblen; snare drum, Verne Goppelt; bass drum, Albert Schumacher.

German Club

Edward Wagner, senior pre-theological student, was elected president of the Wartburg College German society at its reorganization meeting Tuesday evening, Sept. 21. Other officers elected were Albert Schumacher, vice president; Ruth Gehrecke, secretary-treasurer, and Lillian Roggow, librarian. A program committee will be named by the president for each month's meetings. The committee for the next month consists of Albert Schumacher as standing chairman, Theophile Doyan and Wilmuth Fruehling.

Professor Cornil, as leader of the group, outlined the year's activities and welcomed the 35 students as members of the organization. Plans at present are to hold one meeting a month, devoted to the study of German by means of addresses, reports and oral essays, and one meeting for social functions. During the year, the society will present several programs of plays and German musical numbers which will be open to the public.

SIX NEW STAFF MEMBERS ADDED

History and Education Aids Are Hired; Llemohn Will Direct Music Groups.

Miss Pearl Niemi, with a master's degree from the University of Minnesota, will assist in the History department and offer a French course in order to relieve the crowded German department. She has spent some time in France to perfect herself in the language of that country.

The Department of Education will receive assistance in Miss Dorothy Carr, who took her work for the M. A. degree at the University of Iowa. Her place will be in elementary education and the supervision of the teacher's training classes.

Miss Anna Schoenbohm, the Home Economics teacher will exchange the classroom for a home of her own. She will be succeeded by Miss Ida Ratzlaff, who has a wide experience in this field. Miss Ratzlaff studied in Harvard and in Columbia Universities. During the Chicago fair she was official hostess for the state of South Dakota.

In the Music Department, Mr. Edwin Llemohn, of Rochester, N. Y., will teach theoretical music and lead the various musical organizations. He took his M. Mus. degree in the Eastman School of Music and formerly taught at Concordia college.

Mr. Aug. Hildebrecht, for many years director of Wartburg Normal College, who served as college treasurer for the last two years, retired on July 1. He thus brings to a close a long and successful career in school work. His place has been taken by Mr. Basil Foch of Waucoma, Iowa, who has some experience in banking and school work. He will also serve as purchasing agent for the school.

Claude Huth of Seymour, Wis., will head the reorganized physical education department and act as basketball and baseball coach.

All Wartburg Day Sunday, Oct. 3, at the Backbone state park.

ALUMNI GROUPS FORM NEW JOINT ORGANIZATION

Meeting Last June Is Scene of Union.

Alumni groups of the schools now merged in Wartburg College began a joint organization when the Association of Alumni and Former Students of Wartburg College met in Waverly, Tuesday, June 1, 1937. The alumni organizations of Wartburg College and Wartburg Normal college, by separate vote, passed resolutions to merge. The alumni of St. Paul-Luther, while desiring to remain intact as an organization, are eligible for membership in the merged group, as are also all alumni of the school formerly located at Eureka, S. D.

The alumni meeting in the college convocation hall was opened with prayer by the president of the college, Prof. E. J. Braun. After some general discussion, the Rev. Louis G. Krebs, Davenport, president of the Association of the Alumni and Former Students of Wartburg College, called for a motion from the members of that organization, merging it with the alumni group of Wartburg Normal College. This motion was made, seconded and unanimously carried.

The Rev. S. M. Becker, Clarksville, president of The Wartburgers of Waverly, called for a similar motion, which was also duly carried.

The Rev. C. T. Langholz, president of the St. Paul-Luther Alumni Association, brought greetings from this organization and stated that while his association would continue, he knew many of its members would also join the merged group.

The appointment of various committees to report at the evening session concluded the afternoon session.

The evening session was held after the banquet and program. With the Rev. Krebs acting as chairman, the constitution was discussed and voted upon. Elsewhere in this issue appears the text of the constitution as approved by the group.

Following the voting on the constitution, elections of officers was held.

Those chosen were: President, Rev. A. G. Wenninger, Waverly; vice presidents, the Rev. L. G. Krebs, Davenport, the Rev. S. M. Becker, Clarksville, and the Rev. C. T. Langholz, Columbus, Ohio; secretary, Gertrude Voelker, Readlyn; treasurer, Ed G Engelbrecht, Waverly.

SECRETARY

Miss Gertrude Voelker, '36, was elected secretary of the alumni association at an organization meeting last year. At present, she is teaching in the Readlyn, Ia., high school.

Letters to Alumni

Dear Fellow-Alumni:

According to plans worked out by the executives of the alumni association and the editors of The Trumpet, a certain space in this paper will be devoted to news about alumni or of special interest to them. This section should do much to foster interest in the organization and to promote fellowship among the members.

However, in order to make this page interesting and full of news, no one person can fill the position of editor. This requires the cooperation of each member. One person may know of some events in his section of the country, or among his acquaintances, but be in entire ignorance of interesting news which should appear on the alumni page.

I urge every graduate or former student of the schools now merged in Wartburg college to send in any items about themselves or other members. Only by cooperating in editing this page will we be able to make it of any value. Personal items will be especially appreciated. Our church papers give us news of some alumni, but there is much that is not published there. This will be the field we will endeavor to cover.

Let us work together to make this section the real news-organ of our alumni association.

Gertrude Voelker, Secretary.

Alumni, send in your news.

CONSTITUTION OF COLLEGE ALUMNI

ARTICLE I

The name of this organization shall be "The Association of Alumni and Former Students of Wartburg College."

ARTICLE II

3. Committees—The officers of the association shall constitute the executive committee. All other committees shall be appointed by the president.

4. Quorum—Fifteen members shall constitute a quorum.

5. Dues—Annual dues of this association shall be $2.00 which shall include a subscription to the student publication.

6. Reception of new members—New members shall be received by vote of the association at the regular meeting.

7. Voting rights—Voting rights shall be restricted to those members who have paid their dues for the current year.

Melchert Addresses Alumni at Banquet

The Wartburg alumni banquet was held on Tuesday evening, June 2, at the Legion hall in Waverly. The Rev. G. Melchert, Watertoo, gave the principal address of the evening, in which he stressed the need for cooperation in supporting our middle-west college. Prof. G. J. Neumann acted as toastmaster.

After the toast program, the guests saw the play, "The Trysting Place," by Booth Tarkington, presented by a group of Wartburg students directed by Prof. H. J. Kuhlmann.

The final business session of the association followed the presentation of the play.

Weddings

Bauer-Hasselman

Evelyn Bauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Bauer of Mendota, Ill., became the bride of Clarence Hasselman of Deer Grove, Ill., on Saturday, Sept. 11. The Rev. J. T. Meyer officiated at the ceremony which was performed in the Clarion Lutheran church. Ruth Fritz, St. Paul, and Mrs. Clifford Hasselman, Rock Falls, were bridesmaids, while Mildred Bauer, only sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The groom was attended by his brother, Clifford Hasselman. The two ushers were Harold Wendel, Mendota, a cousin of the bride, and Wesley Conklin, Rock Falls.

After the ceremony the wedding couple left on a trip to Niagara Falls. Upon their return they will live on the groom's farm near Deer Grove.

Mrs. Hasselman attended Wartburg college at Clinton, where she was a roommate of Miss Fritz. For the past two years she has taught her home school.

Zink-Woodrich

Martha Zink, of Scotland, S. D., was married to the Rev. Glen Woodrich, West Burlington, Iowa, on Saturday, Sept. 4. The father of the bride, the Rev. George Zink, officiated at the ceremony. Since Sept. 15 the couple has been at home at West Burlington.

Mrs. Woodrich attended both Wartburg Normal college and Wartburg college at Clinton. Since her graduation from the latter in 1934, she has taught in the public schools in Granger, Wyoming and Benson, Ill.

The Rev. Mr. Woodrich was also a member of the class of 1934 at Wartburg. Following the completion of his work there, he attended Wartburg Seminary at Dubuque. He was called to the congregation at West Burlington upon his graduation from the seminary this spring.

Class of 1936

What has become of the members of Wartburg's class of 1936? They are now beginning their second year out of college, and by this time should have become accustomed to being independent, and should be able to stand on their own feet.

Most of the members of this class are attending Wartburg Seminary at Dubuque. Those beginning their middler year there are: Edmund Baumgarten, August Engelbrecht, John Hafermann, Arnold Jahr, John Kemmerer, Alfred Mardorf, Ray Meyer, Leo Moench, Paul Plotter, Emil Reinking, Erhard Schalkhauser, Marvin Schroeder and Clifton Woetch.

Elmer Kretzschmar, Sumner, is beginning his second year as English teacher at the Plainfield high school. Marie Zink is remaining at home in Scotland this year. At the last report, she was working in the local telephone office. Gertrude Voelker is again teaching English at Readlyn.

BOERGER TALKS ON NEAR EAST MISSION WORK

Schlueter, Neumann, Hiltner, Talk in Chapel Period.

The convocation programs given the first few days informed us of the various activities of the coming school year. Last Monday, Sept. 13, Coach Elmer Hertel talked on athletics, both intercollegiate and intramural, outlined this season's football schedule, and considered the prospects and general athletic setup. Wednesday, Sept. 15, Prof. Claude Huth gave a brief outline of the social programs to be presented, urging the students' cooperation to assure the best results.

On Friday, the 17th, Rev. Alfred K. Boerger of Hamilton, O., executive secretary-treasurer of the Lutheran Orient Mission Society, informed us of the history and present work of the organization, among the Kurds in western Persia, eastern Turkey and northern Iraq. Rev. Boerger showed us the fallacies and inconsistencies of Mohammedan religion, saying also that, "We Christians are partly at fault that Mohammedism is in the world. It is not an easy task to go out to that mission field, but a glorious task. Mohammedism degrades its mothers; no such religion can rise."

On Monday, Sept. 20, Rev. R. C. Schlueter, the college pastor, admonished us in regard to worship habits, both private and public. Rev. Schlueter told the students, "You are preaching a sermon every Sunday morning seven blocks long and seven blocks back. Are you serving Him with gladness as in Ps. 122: 'I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord'? Turn duty into delight. If you do not attend public worship you might miss out on some certain blessing." An invitation and welcome was given each Wartburg student to attend all the services of St. Paul's and to make the church his church while in Waverly.

Dr. G. J. Neumann for Tuesday's chapel hour, read a group of parables or paraphrases of New Testament parables, of which he is the author. He is about to publish an entire book of these parables.

Dr. John Hiltner in Wednesday's convocation gave a talk on education, centering it on that well-known quotation, "The heart of all education is the education of the heart." He emphasized the fact that not only the study of textbooks educated us, but also our whole environment, behavior and attitude, both in and out of school, helps to make up our educational program. "It is not what we know but what we do with our knowledge that goes into education," said Dr. Hiltner.

Initiation Rules

1. Initiation is to be held the third week of the current year.
2. The sophomore class will have charge of the initiation of non-dormitory students, while the members of each dormitory will initiate the members in their respective dormitories. These are to be formal initiations.
3. The student council will appoint various committees for initiation within each dormitory during the first week of school.
4. The plans of the committee must be censored and approved by the student council at least one week before initiation.

General Rules.

1. There will be no "hazing" or rides tolerated.
2. Informal dormitory initiations will not be permitted.
3. All freshmen will be asked to wear green caps from the time of formal initiation until Homecoming. The maximum price of these caps shall not exceed twenty-five cents.
4. If any exceptional cases arise and are reported to the student council, the council will report them to the respective deans, who will take any action they see fit.

Membership of Pep Club Is Completed

Harry Rappath was elected president of the Pep club, Earnest Opperman, vice president, and Norman Becker, secretary, at the organization meeting of the club Thursday evening.

Following are the names of the students who are members; seniors Mae Cain, Walter Krebs, Ernest Oppermann and Harry Rappath; juniors, Arlene Carstensen, Ruth Fritz, Otto Matthias and Carl Kalkwarf; sophomores, Vivian Gluck, Eleanor Gross, Norman Becker, and Paul Scharpf; freshmen, Naomi Young, Mary Strottman, Paul Lawrence and Vern Goppelt.

Plans were made to hold cheer leader try-outs next week.

Pre-School Is New Wartburg Project

The pre-school, one of the new projects at Wartburg, has formally opened with a membership of ten youngsters ranging in age from two to four years. The school convenes from 9 to 11:45 from Monday through Friday.

Miss Dorothy Carr of the faculty, supervises the school. She is being assisted by Gladys Bauer, Helen Weterling, Erna Piotter and Irene Drewelow, all of whom are enrolled in the education department which is sponsoring the project.

The schoolroom, in the basement of Wartburg Hall, has recently been redecorated under the direction of Miss Carr. A new sand-box and a "Jungle Gym" have been added to the playground equipment.

PRE-THE GROUP BEGINS DUTIES

Organization to Undertake Many Projects During New School Year.

Contemplating many improvements in the Christian worship on the campus, the new Pre-theological president, Erwin Knitt, recently announced an extensive program for the club during the coming school year.

"To improve both the psychological and mechanical aspects of worship on the campus by a program of timely discussions and needed repairs in the various chapel rooms is the aim of the Pre-theological organization," this statement was made by the president.

After a conference with Dr. Hiltner, the faculty adviser, a tentative list of projects has been drawn up. Arrangements are to be made for the student convocations on Friday and the selection of topics of discussion at the meetings. Themes such as Missions, Liturgy, and Prayer are included in the schedule.

Needed repairs to the furniture and light fixtures in the dorm chapel were discussed. At the same time it was suggested that the club provide the ushers at the matin service at St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Since the beginning of school, members of the club have led the prayers in the dining room and also taken charge of the student chapel meetings in Grossmann Hall.

Future events placed on the club calendar include the providing of an outside speaker for the Reformation day program, as well as arranging the plans for another Candle Light service at Christmas time, and suitable services for Lent, Pentecost and other church seasons.

A short organization meeting was held last Thursday evening, at which time the results of the various projects were submitted to the club for discussion and approval. Arrangements were made for receiving into membership a large number of new pre-theological students who attended the first meeting. Eugene Leschensky was elected secretary-treasurer, and Franklin Brehmer vice president.

Wartburg Hall Women Meet to Elect Officers

On Monday evening, Sept. 13, a house meeting was called in Wartburg hall at which time rules were explained and officers were elected. Miss Kaiser explained the standards of living for the residents of Wartburg hall. She also offered helpful suggestions which will enable the girls to live more harmoniously.

Following Miss Kaiser's talk, the elections for house president and house council were held. Irene Gluck is the house president, and Gladys Bauer and Wilma Burrack were elected to the house council.

Miss Kaiser also announced the proctors for each floor. On second floor they are Irene Gluck and Eleanor Gross, and on third floor, Juneaver Radloff and Ruth Gehrecke. The proctors automatically become house council members.

New Girls Welcomed at Pi Sigma Party

Thursday evening, Sept. 9, the members of Pi Sigma entertained their "little sisters" (the freshmen girls) at a "get acquainted" party.

All the college girls gathered in the reception room of Wartburg Hall. The evening's entertainment consisted of exchanging autographs, a biography game and several other "get acquainted" games. These were ably conducted by Eleanor Gross, Gladys Bauer, Mae Cain and Evelyn Loots. The neat little invitations for the occasion were made by Ruth Gehrecke, Mildred Beneke, Vivian Gluck and Gertrude Grosshans.

At 10 o'clock, light refreshments were served by Wilma Burrack, Erma Clark, Ilma Eilts and Henrietta Johnson. Arlene Carstensen, Irene Gluck, Irma Christophel and DeLoris Prior had charge of refills.

CLASS OFFICERS ELECTION HELD

Wagner, Knitt, Cain Will Head Senior Class; Adix Chosen Junior Leader.

Class officers were elected Tuesday, Sept. 14. Seniors chose as their officers the same group they elected last year when they were still juniors: Ed Wagner, president; Erwin Knitt, vice president; Mae Cain, secretary.

Junior officers are: Herbert Adix, president; Egbert Wagner, vice president; Ruth Fritz, secretary.

Sophomore officers are: Walter Schultheiss, president; Albert Schumacher, vice president, and Immanuel Leschensky, secretary.

Wartburger Attends Eastern Convention

Mr. Kenneth Hodum, a senior, represented Wartburg college at the national Ashram of the L. S. A. held at Susquehannah university, Selin's Grove, Penn., Aug. 17-31. There were 150 students present, representing Lutheran Students associations from many colleges and universities in America.

Mr. Hodum accompanied a group from Minneapolis which toured Chicago, Cleveland, Washington, D. C., New York, and Philadelphia while on its journey to the convention.

The program, according to Mr. Hodum, was very interesting, and featured some prominent Lutherans including: George Aus, Mary E. Markssley, C. P. Harry, T. Kantonen, J. C. K. Preus, George Wickey.

Commenting on the convention, Mr. Hodum said, "I was very much impressed over the enthusiasm and attitude shown by the students there. Personally, I think that a conference of this nature makes a student appreciate the benefits of a church school."

W CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Oppermann, Luetkens Kalkwarf Are Organization's New Officers.

The Wartburg "W" club is comprised of all boys who earn a letter in one or more major sports.

The officers which were elected last spring are as follows:

President, Ernest Oppermann.

Vice president, Walter Luetkens.

Secretary-treasurer, Carl Kalkwarf.

At the meeting which the club held Sept. 16 of this school year, they decided that they would buy the departing athletes award sweatters at the time of graduation. The methods the club is using to buy these sweaters is by selling candy bars and "W" club pencils at the games.

Help the "W" club. Buy a candy bar to eat at every game and don't let us see you without a "W" pencil. Be loyal to your athletes. The club will certainly appreciate your patronage.

WARTBURG LOSES IMPORTANT MAN

Immanuel Kuester Is Ineligible to Play in Iowa Conference.

The ineligibility of Immanuel Kuester will hit the Knights hard when the football season gets under full swing.

A rule in the Iowa conference, stating that a player from an out-of-state school must be a resident of an Iowa conference school for at least one year, knocks the Wartburg prospect out of all athletic competition.

Before entering Wartburg college, Immanuel had played one year at St. Paul-Luther college and two years at Northwestern.

Kuester, a brother of Wartburg's captain, is a lineman and plays either the tackle or guard positions. He is noted for his great offensive play, opening the holes for his backfield mates. He is also a daring bearcat on defense.

There is no doubt but that a hard-driving lineman who would have made good at Wartburg, is in the passing.

GET THROUGH THERE FAST!

Coach Hertel scrutinizes his offense during a scrimmage for the Estherville game. The interference looks pretty good on this play as the white-jerseyed regulars shoot a play over the left side of their own line. Coach Huth may be seen in the background, holding a tackling dummy.

WARTBURG COEDS ELECT OFFICERS

Organization Meeting Held by W. A. A.; Formulate Future Plans.

The W. A. A. held its first meeting of the year on Tuesday, Sept. 22, in the lounge of the girls' dormitory.

Several money-making projects were discussed, as well as ideas for campaigning for new members. It was decided to give each member a list of girls who are non-members and have her give a personal invitation to these girls.

Elections were held for three offices. Lorraine Eckstein was chosen for the sports chairman, and Arlene Carstensen for the social chairman. Since the vice-president, Pauline Huss, is not attending school this year, Eleanor Gross was elected to fill the position.

Duck for Cover Frosh! the Day of Doom Draws Nigh

Sophomore President Reveals Plotting of Committee.

Just a fragment of a day before freshmen initiation week begins! Everybody seems to be preparing for the big event. The initiation committee is working on the final plans for a really successful week. Pres. Schultheis told the scribe that according to his plans, there would be something different for the freshies every day next week. I heartily agreed with him that there should be something different every day because some of the weaker frosh would be unable to stand up under the strain of the same form of initiation for seven days.

In the meantime, several individual business enterprises are springing up. For example, the official college barber, was seen working at the grindstone in the workshop the other day. When asked what he was doing, he replied, "Well, I'm expecting quite a business rush next week, and furthermore, I see that several of the freshies have some pretty heavy wool on their heads. In order to prevent any delay due to a dull clipper, I've decided to sharpen a couple of extra blades. I'm sure all of you freshies know our barber and know that he is very reasonable in prices. Sometimes our barber doesn't take anything but your hair. He is very particular as to what kind of hair he takes, so I'm afraid that some of you will have to pay and take your hair along home with you after they are 'shorn'".

In the same room of the workshop, two more upper classmen were seen working. They have chosen as their hobby, the carving or whittling of paddles (to be used on the frosh, of course). The two men expect to open their shop Monday and will have at least one hundred paddles ready for sale. I do hope that all of you upper classmen will patronize their business—they are both trying to work their way through college, and besides, paddles will be very popular next week.

You know, one of the most peculiar things I've noticed was when I saw a group of freshmen boys assembled. The assembling wasn't so peculiar, but to see them practicing up their "buttoning" really struck me as funny. One of the group remarked that he thought they still needed a lot of practice, (watching their performance, I heartily agreed with him) but that he thought by the end of the next week they would surely know how. You're right, son, and if you don't know how by the end of next week, it won't be your fault.

Before closing, I wish to announce that anyone who catches a freshman dissipating the rules, which will be posted next week, should make a note of it and remember to report it to the kangaroo court. At this court, all the dissipators will be tried and receive punishment according to their misdemeanors. (I really wasn't supposed to say anything about it the "K. C.", but maybe some appreciative frosh will buy me a treat for giving them a fair warning.)

Langholz Elected Member of Council

Ted Danitschek, pre-the senior of Denver, Colo., will head the Student Council of Wartburg for the current school year. Ted is a leading member of many of the school's activities and it is felt by the student body in general that he will very capably fill his office as leader of such an important organization as the Student Council.

To assist him in the guiding of student affairs and problems are Leonard Domke of Tilleda, Wis., as vice-president, Mac Cain of Waverly as secretary-treasurer, Carl Kalkwarf, Gertrude Grosshans, Eleanor Gross, John Kuethe and Paulus Braulick.

ATHLETIC HEADS HOLD DISCUSSION

Set Forth Rules In Regard to Granting of Letters and Set Ticket Prices.

The athletic committee, consisting of Hertel, Huth, Swenson, Kaiser and Chellevold, met last week with the student representatives, Braulick, Gross, Kalkwarf and Danitschek.

At the last meeting in June, it was decided that no player in any sport would be awarded a letter unless present at the last game, and present at the convocation period when the letters will be awarded. No player is exempt from this rule unless excused by the coach.

At last week's meeting the price of the tickets were decided, which have been posted. They are 40c for each game and 50c for the Homecoming game. Season tickets sell for $1.00.

KNIGHTS BATTLE ESTHERVILLE TO SCORELESS TIE

Scoring Threats in Final Half Fall Short of Goal.

The Wartburg Knights battled the Estherville Wolves to a scoreless tie in the first game of the year at the Municipal Field on Friday evening, Sept. 24. The Knights lacked the necessary punch to put across a touchdown when in the third quarter they were six yards from the Estherville goal. An attempted lateral failed and with it went Wartburg's best chance for a touchdown.

The game was generally slow and steady with no spectacular plays. Chadwick's run of twenty yards was Wartburg's best ground gaining effort. Wartburg passed but little, whereas Estherville relied upon an aerial attack at many stages of the game although they completed only two out of thirteen attempts. Wartburg completed one out of four attempts. Emmons, E. Wagner, and Gorney made some substantial gains, usually on end runs. Ellermeier cracked the line for a few gains. On defense, Kuester, Oppermann, and Augst showed up well.

The Wolves made some brilliant end runs showing that Wartburg must tighten up her defense at the ends. Emmons bore the brunt of the punting, getting off several good kicks.

The Knights opened the game with Ellermeier returning the kickoff to the twenty yard line. The next few minutes saw a five yard pass by Kuester, a fumble by Estherville which Domke recovered, a twenty yard run by Chadwick, and a three yard pass to Oppermann. The quarter ended with Wartburg in possession of the ball.

The second quarter opened with a five yard gain by Chadwick; a line plunge by Ellermeier; a first down by Emmons; a ten yard loss by Chadwick; an intercepted pass by an Estherville man; several incompleted passes; a blocked punt by Estherville; a line plunging pass into the end zone by the Wolves with no luck; and an attempted place kick by the desperate Wolves. In the dying minutes of the half, the Estherville backfield cut loose with a barrage of four successive passes with no gain. Wartburg possessed the ball at the half.

The third quarter saw the Knights marching relentlessly toward the goal. This march was aided with a blocked kick by Domke and aff 15 yard run by "Egg" Wagner. The Hertelmen advanced the ball to a potential scoring position but fumbled a lateral for a costly loss. This proved to be the last important scoring threat of the game.

The final quarter was mainly confined to running plays. The game ended with a fifteen yard run by Emmons.

The Wolves collected eleven first downs to eight for the Knights.

Referee, Graham (Iowa). Head linesmans, Martin (Coe). Umpire, Hughes (Upper Iowa).

Reserves who saw action during the course of the game were Gorney, R. Wagner, Bunger and Fruehling.

The Knights showed a need for better interference work and a tighter defense for their game next Friday with Graceland.

NEW COACH

Claude Huth of Seymour, Wis., will head the physical education department of Wartburg college this year and as basketball and baseball coach.

HUTH ASSUMES POST AS COACH

Will Act as Line Coach for Football Season and Be Basketball Head.

Claude Huth, big, youthful, and energetic, as the picture reveals, comes to us from Seymour, Wis. He received his football experience and coaching degree at the University of Wisconsin under "Doc" Spears and Glen Thistlewaite. In 1933 he obtained his master's degree in physical education.

At Wartburg, Huth is assisting Hertel in whittling out a football team which will be able to meet the strong competition the Iowa Conference offer. In an interview with Coach Huth, he commented on the good material which is out for football this fall. "The line is plenty strong from end to end, and the backfield is plenty fast," says Mr. Huth.

During the basketball season, Huth will be at the head of the team. Next spring he will take charge of the baseball team, while Hertel will drill the track men.

Mr. Huth has also great abilities in directing social activities. At the mixer, held Sept. 10, Mr. Huth showed capability in directing party games as well as he can direct athletic games. Throughout the evening he acted as toastmaster and made a real "mixer" of it.

Of Wartburg college, Huth says, "I'm well satisfied with the college. It shows great improvement along all lines."

COACHING MINOR MADE POSSIBLE THIS SEMESTER

New Courses Offered in Physical Ed. Here.

Any one desiring to take a minor in Physical Education, can now do so at Wartburg. There are three new courses.

Class number 301 teaches the aims of the courses.

Class number 301 teaches the aims of the course and the history of Physical Education. In the second semester we have a continuation of the course in 302. This course studies the organization of the course and the programs which must be laid out. This is a three credit course.

Class number 303 is a study of games and self testing activities, games themselves and measurements in Physical Education. This gives you two credits while 304, a course in First Aid, is of 1 credit course.

401 is the theory and practice of football and basket-ball as well as the methods of coaching. 402 is given the second semester and is the theory and practice of baseball and track & field.

Continuation of this course is dependent upon the enrollment either next semester or next year. If all these courses are taken, they will give a minor in Physical Education.

Out of the north come the crisp and exhilarating breezes of autumn, the leaves begin to change color, and nature seems to be obtaining herself in a final hemmorrhation before the coming winter. A new life blood seems to surge through our veins. Throughout the land, schools, colleges, and universities are once again opening their doors to vast throngs of returning students. Such is the typical seasonal setting of that great king of fall sports—football. The thud of the pigskin, the churning line, the snappy signals of the quarterback, the referee's shrill whistle, the festivals all combine to make football a great and glorious spectacle. From the sandlot to the university gridiron we see evidences of this popular sport. Sports will be football-minded from now until snow flies.

It is in the same setting in which we Wartburg Knights are now finding ourselves. The football team has been practicing hard for several weeks and opened their first game with buoyant spirits and strong resolutions. As always is the case, there has been the usual amount of early season predictions concerning the chances for a successful season. These forecasts are naturally of a rosy hue ranging from a drab gray to a rosy red.

And soon as we are on the threshold of another football season, let us resolve, as a loyal student body, to get behind the team and give them as much as feasible of that intangible quantity of human product known as "moral support." Laugh, if you will, at the mention of "moral support" but rest assured if you back up your team in defeat or in victory, you will get a certain amount of self gratification out of it. If we claim to be Knights of Wartburg, let's all be at the football games and support our Knights in the man! This message also applies to the girls. Come on out, girls, and if you can't yell, at least smile your sweetest and be an inspiration to the warriors of the gridiron.

With Kuester at the helm this year, our football team should go places. This is Kuester's third and final year at Wartburg, and during the past two years he has proven himself to be a staunch defensive player who never says die. "Arnie" is not only a capable leader but recently has been conducting himself quite admirably from the social standpoint. From all indications as exhibited during the Mixer, "Arnie" could well play the part of any classical lover such as Juliet, Cleopatra, or Sweet Adeline. More power to you, Captain Kuester, and may your glory as a football player and as an advocate of superior social standards shine forth as a brilliant model for posterity.

* * *

It seems that a certain sports writer of one of Iowa's leading newspapers does not paint a very bright picture as far as Wartburg's participation in the Iowa Conference is concerned. He states that Wartburg will play three Iowa conference foes and then goes on to add that we are almost sure to lose at least two of them. According to that frank gentleman's opinion, we have the chance of winning just one game and he will not even concede us the edge in that one. Luckily for Wartburg, football games aren't decided in the dope bucket but on the gridiron. Let's change the tune a little and say that we're going to win two games this season and then we'll be sure of at least a tie for the conference championship.

* * *

Coach Hertel is well pleased with the quality of the men who are out for football but he is disappointed with the quantity. He has a good first team but will be greatly hampered by lack of reserves, notably in the backfield and in some of the line positions. He can only hope that injuries are kept down to a minimum and that the stamina of the first string can be kept up to top notch performance.

* * *

Football prospects would have been much brighter this year if all of the prospective players who had been contacted during the summer would have enrolled this fall. Coach Hertel had all reason to believe that at least ten such newcomers would be added to our roster this year, but complications of all kinds seemed to have prevented these prospects from enrolling. As it is, there will probably be several new names in the line-up this year. Nearly all of these men have seen action either in high school or in college at some time or other. Perhaps some "dark horse" will appear and boost the Knights to unheard of heights. Do I hear any volunteers?

* * *

Chadwick has been shifted from the end position which he played last year to a backfield post. Dave is a fast man and should work into that assignment quite well. Remember last year at the indoor class track meet how "Chad" almost singlehandedly brought first honors to the sophomore class?

* * *

Looking at the Wartburg schedule this year we see that they have eight games, three at home and five away. Three of them are conference games, the toughest of which will probably be Buena Vista. If you'll remember, Buena Vista drummed us last year. But then, that doesn't mean anything. I'm willing to say we'll get revenge this year. Our husky, heavy, hard-hitting line should open quite a few holes in our opponents' defense, for our shifty backfield to take advantage of. We're going to have a good team this year, so let's show them that we're behind them. Let's get out there with all the vim and vigor of true Wartburgers and cheer our team on to more and better conquests.

* * *

Looking at our new material this year, we can see some promises. We have ten freshmen in our midst who are aspiring for a berth on the Wartburg eleven.

Three freshmen are battling lustily for a guard position; Dettmer, Obenauer and Emulick. We have a promising center in Stanek from Minnesota. A husky, 218-pound tackle in Kellner, and an end in Wagner, seem to be two more likely prospects.

In the backfield we have three freshmen, Staehling, Ihnen, and Miller who are after the halfback position. Bill Bunger, another freshman, is doing his best for the quarterback berth.

We are certainly glad to see these men out and we wish more power to them. We had some pretty tough breaks when some of the boys who had planned on fulled to show up, but we can give the opponents plenty to think about as it is.

We, the undersigned, demand of the faculty members of the volleyball team which bowed in such ignominious defeat on Outfly day (long live its memory) — why, wherefore, and how come the watermelon, awarded upon as rightful spoils of the winners, has not been made known to us in the physical form.
